Dear Miss Belfrage,

Upon my return I found correspondence indicating some nasty things had happened to my book in France. I expect to be in New York the week of the 20th., unless something now unforeseen necessitates an earlier trip. I'll be in touch with you then and I will have the correspondence with me.

Meanwhile, I am wondering if in their efforts on behalf of Mark Lane's book the British or French Committees might have inadvertently been the cause of it. Is it possible, without too much trouble, for you to find out what, if anything, they have done with it there?

I have written a French agent, unknown to me, seeking representation. I had earlier written Sartre, without receiving a reply. Until recently, I thought it had been all set from arrangements I made in early June.

As you know, I appreciate what you did. There are also other possibilities. After the reception I got at Hobbs-Merrill, I did not phone Faet.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
